

Smile-A-Day

Smile

I hereby agree, without a vow, to try to make a cognitive effort to smile at one person today. May Hashem, in His Greatness, help me and every Jew to fulfill the mitzvah to love your fellow as yourself, today and every single day. I gratefully thank Hashem for giving me the ability to choose to exhibit good behavior towards others, and may others also behave toward me as tenderly as they would wish to be treated themselves.

In merit of my efforts I request:

A complete and speedy recovery for _____.

A good livelihood and sustenance for _____.

A good marital match for _____.

Household peace for _____.

That _____ would merit having children.

Peace in the Land of Israel and a speedy redemption.

Encourage others to become a member of this Nationwide campaign to improve the attitude of Jews towards each other and all mankind. Join us today by making a cognitive effort to smile at just one person each day. That's it, a simple smile. It's so easy!
